

Do you know The Maniac Pledge?

I'm responsible for taking action, asking questions, getting answers and making decisions. I won't wait for someone to tell me. If I need to know, I'm responsible for asking. I have no right to be offended that I didn't get this sooner. If I'm doing something others should know about, I'm responsible for telling them. The Maniac Pledge is about the honesty of action and the honesty of communication.
